FROM THE PUBLISHER

"He that loves reading has everything within his reach."

William Godwin \(1756-1836\) British writer

Since you are reading this page you are trying to make up your mind whether or not you want to purchase this book. The cover has attracted you, so you have decided to open the book and browse. As for the question do you want to purchase this book? My answer to you is "Yes". It is a resounding yes. Yes you want to purchase this book because reading this book will change your life. Reading is an activity like none other. The consequences of reading are extraordinary just as the consequences of not reading are extraordinary. Not reading will result in living your life in darkness. You can sit before an orchestra where the music will thrill you to passion and for a while your spirit will soar. You can turn the radio on in your car and the music will carry you away but there is nothing like reading. Reading will not only transport you to another place and time, reading will change the circumstances of your life forever. Reading will carry you to the future where you will see possibilities and reading will allow you to visit the past where you will see potential.

Music provides a temporary high for your relief from your surroundings whereas reading can lead you to a permanent relief from everything around you. Reading can change your reality transforming you into a new person. You can read one paragraph and say "why not" or "of course." You can read one book and say "I never thought of that" and read a second book and say "If only I had known this before?" You can see one word on the page and say to yourself "that can be me". "I have possibilities in my life." Once you begin reading in earnest you will realize that you can learn equally from reading about how a man failed in his life and as well as how a man succeeded in his life. In fact learning how a person failed is a good road map for success, because failure always provides you with an alternative point of view.

Think of the man who decided to construct the street light, or to design the fire hydrant, or to design the light bulb. Where did these ideas come from; what was the source of their inspiration? One source of these inventions was reading. Reading allows for the accumulation of information. When this information is assimilated in the human brain an idea is born. One invention sparks another invention that sparks another great idea until finally man is raised to an enhanced state of existence. Reading provides the recipe for originality.

A man says to himself there must be a better way. He goes to a library trying to find that better way. He reads and reads and reads, assimilating information, looking for that better way. If he does not find that better way in the books he has read, he has still learned something. He has learned that he has to invent the better way. This time he begins to read books looking for ideas to help him as he invents. In the book Father Hunt, by Rex Stout (1886-1975), who wrote over 70 detective novels, the character, Nero Wolfe, makes a brilliant point that I will never forget regarding how an idea is born. Rex Stout wrote Father Hunt in 1968. I read the book in 1976 and I still remember Nero Wolfe's preoccupation of how his sidekick, Archie Goodman, came up with the idea of a silver abacus being owned by Paul Revere. Archie Goodman told Nero Wolfe that he used the possible existence of a silver abacus owned by Paul Revere to gain an interview with a wealthy businessman. Paul Revere never owned a silver abacus but the possibilities of such an item triggered the imagination that allowed for the interview.

During the publication of this book I spoke to three men each man made a negative comment regarding reading. One man said that no one would read each individual name on the list in the book; the second man said no one would purchase the books because people were too busy worrying about money to read or to purchase a book. In hard times no one buys books. What American woman would be interested in what I had to say to purchase a book? The third man said some of the books were too large, that no woman would take the time to read the books. He said the number of page in each book would immediately turn women off. No women or man would purchase a book consisting of four hundred to five hundred pages. Needless to say I was disheartened for a second. Then I sat and thought about their comments. Their words were not complimentary to women or to people in general. There is nothing to life during hard times but meat and potatoes. Grayness had descended on the earth. Life was so brutal that reading could be ignored. I decided to persevere. These men had to be wrong. I continue to believe that reading regardless of the number of pages in a book is seen as an activity that enriches the soul and enlightens the mind leading men and women to greater and greater heights and inventions. The fate of America will be decided by how well we nourishment our minds and assimilate information to continue our growth. I shall continue to believe that people will see that reading leads to a better life. When you read you can learn to eat healthy and to better manage your money and life. Reading allows you to quickly prepare for a dinner party or help you impress a friend. When you read you are open to adventure and confidence bathes your spirit. Reading is the commencement of light and the cessation of darkness. Reading is the activity that puts the soul to take flight. If you desire a change in the status and wealth of your life, then reading is an activity that you can ill afford not to do.

Do not share this book or give this book away for this is my seed to you and to the Lord. These books represent ten years of my life where I decided to serve the Lord and to work on His behalf. Your growth from my seed will carry my spirit into the next generation. This book should be read over and over again until the information is planted into your heart (spirit) and comes out of your mouth as a creative force signifying your connection with the Lord who created you.

Of all the animals, man is the only one that is cruel. He is the only one that inflicts pain for the pleasure of doing it.

"The Lowest Animal"

This Book Was Written To:

This book was written to save lives. It was written to save your life and the lives of your mother, daughter, sister, aunt, cousin, grandmother, and child. This book was written to provide you with information to help you make decisions regarding your safety and the safety and welfare of your children. This book was also written to keep your death from becoming a murder statistic, and to bring the number of women being murdered in this country to the attention of America. Murdered Voices is not a murder mystery or thriller where the victim is put on public display. Murdered Voices is the preamble to the examination of the murder of 252,287 America women in this country giving recognition to their lives, not an exclamation of their deaths. Murdered Voices is filled with information that is not commonly known which we want to share with you. We want the American woman to believe something can be done to prevent the rapes and murders that are occurring throughout our country. Some of you may want to sit at home and pretend all is well but every time your daughter walks out of your home the possibility that she may not return grows exponentially. The only chance she has to survive is if you stand up, become informed, and participate in the defense of yourself. Also for you to say my husband loves me in the face of adultery is comparable to committing suicide. There is nothing wrong with loving a man but you need to be careful and not be foolish at the same time. Just because you are married does not mean your brain has to stop working. Two plus two equals four whether you are married or single. The question is “why does he want to take a large life insurance policy out on your life?” (e.g. Mrs. Sherri Dally, Mrs. Liana Duke, Mrs. Trish Willoughby, Mrs. Miriam Illes, Mrs. Carol Bruce, Mrs. Nannette Hansen, Mrs. Leslie Larson, Mrs. Cathy Frost Larson, etc.), when you do not have children? Would it not help you to know how other women were murdered in this country and the signs leading up to their deaths? Do you not think this information would improve your chances of survival? Or do you want to be the last to know like Mrs. Linda Sandler of Pennsylvania, Mrs. Jamie Stonier of Massachusetts or the ex Mrs. Clayton Miller of Michigan? It just so happened that these particular women survived their ordeal 252,287 women did not. Mr. Joel Sandler, 52, was convicted of paying an undercover detective $30,000 to kill his wife. Mr. Sandler did not want to share the family assets (e.g. Dr. John F. Boyle) of $4.5 million during the couple's divorce. Linda Sandler was seeking a divorce after suffering years of abuse during the marriage. Mr. Sandler's wife had fled the state in fear for her life. Her husband used a private detective and the phone to track her down. Joel Sandler was convicted January 16, 2003 of solicitation to commit first-degree murder and five counts of criminal use of a telecommunication device. Mr. Harold Stonier was convicted in 2004 for hiring a hit man to murder his wife. His wife made the mistake of telling him she wanted a divorce but did not want to move out of the family home until the children finished school for the semester. Mr. Stonier took the position he wanted custody of his son and he wanted to get on with his life. To accomplish these two goals required the death of his wife, Jamie Stonier, so April 10, 2003 Mr. Harold Stonier paid a hit man (an FBI agent) to murder his wife. He was convicted and sentenced to a mere ten years in prison. Mrs. Clayton Miller married right after high school but later divorced her husband because of his abuse. She stayed in the marriage for eighteen years and had seven children so her marriage was important to her. October 16, 2001 the Michigan State Police phoned her and told her that her ex-husband was just arrested for solicitation to murder. Mr. Clayton Miller paid a hit man (an undercover police officer) to have his ex-wife, two of their children, and her new husband murdered. He called the death of his two children collateral damage. The most outstanding characteristic about Mr. Miller is that he is a liar. He lied and said he was a Vietnam Veteran. He is not! He never fought for this country. Mr. Clayton Miller has never worn a military uniform. He is just a common, garden-variety bully. Mr. Miller was “a want to be”, this is why he was so mean and vicious to his wife and children throughout the marriage. He never had the courage to be the man he envisioned for himself. He failed at being a man that made him fail at being a husband and a father. Mr. Miller has subsequently been convicted and sentenced to 30 years in prison but he is eligible for parole in six years. Once Mr. Miller is paroled what is this family going to do? The NISV does not believe the state of Michigan will feel Mr. Miller is a threat to his family and he will be paroled. Michigan is a parole state. Karen King, a beautiful 18-year old Michigan State University student, was abducted and murdered January 3, 1997 by a parolee, a man who was paroled October 31, 1996. It took him and his cousin just two months to find a victim. Michigan has frequently paroled murderers and rapists, so why should Mr. Miller be required to serve thirty years in prison for merely threatening his ex-wife and her husband? Mr. Miller was allowed to plead guilty to only one charge of solicitation to murder when it was clear he wanted four people murdered. Mr. Miller was clearly not happy about losing control over his family. Is prison supposed to transform Clayton Miller into a caring human being and a genial father? The solicitation to murder was the final act of exerting control and power (I'll show you). We shall see what the Michigan Parole Board thinks in 2008. The reason why the decisions you make regarding your safety are so important is because you are a mother and you are the only natural protector of your children. If you make the wrong decision regarding your safety, your children will be left motherless. A motherless child is the most wretched person in the world. Understand this, motherless children must do as they are told, they have no negotiator and no sovereignty over their bodies. The children that survive foster care are dumped onto our city streets with no family affiliations, support, or hope to begin a future. What are they to do? They are poorly educated and bruised and battered emotionally. Predators spend their days look for motherless children. Motherless children are profitable. The predators use the naiveté of motherless children to their sexual and financial advantage. The motherless children are obliging because they have been trained to be conciliatory all their lives under the foster care system. Our society has moved so fast in the last fifty years that it has not considered those among us that are living in pain. The casualties are accumulating in our cemeteries. Many of these individuals were motherless children. It is not fair for you to leave your children motherless. Regardless of what society or your girlfriend says with respect to your responsibility toward your children you are intrinsically linked to the destiny of your child's life. The responsibility of a mother toward her child cannot be abdicated so every time you consider your safety you must ask yourself have I placed myself in a situation of danger (talking too much) by my decision or my failure to respond to a dangerous signal? If you choose to ignore this warning or if you feel insulted by our insolence, the next time you hear a child cry, stop and listen to the wailing when the child cries mommy. The goal of Murdered Voices is to get women to change. We want women to begin thinking more about their safety and to do more about violence against women and children in this country. To bring about this change we will briefly discuss the circumstances surrounding the murder of 1,209 of the 1,747 women mentioned in this book; 1,534 Americans, one Argentinean, and two Canadians women were murdered on American soil; one hundred and twelve Canadian women, and ninety-six Mexican women, and two American women murdered on Mexican soil. Less than one-percent of these murder cases are nationally known. As a nation of free women, we must rise to the occasion. We must not look to the past except as a lesson to the future. We do not have to be concerned with fear. Fear shall take care of itself. We must focus on solving the problem of violence against women and children in this county. We must meet this challenge to insure the welfare and safety of our children and female relatives. We must pledge to one another that we shall fight and not die on our knees. This book was written to call you to action. Because this book was written for you and to call you to action we ask that you take your time and read this book carefully. You have much to consider.

Editor's Note

Women are beaten every day. They are beaten and they are murdered, often by those closest to them – a boyfriend, a father, a husband, a lover. Women are date raped; they are abducted; they disappear. Over the last few decades, much has been said and written about the issue of violence against women – so much, in fact, that it is nearly impossible to turn on the television or open a newspaper without learning about yet another victim of this epidemic of violence. As an American woman, I watch these newscasts and read these articles with a nervous eye. As an American woman, living with the threat of violence is a daily reality. I am careful where I walk, and when, and with whom. I do not make eye contact with strangers. Almost weekly, I receive e-mails from my mother, sisters, aunts, and female friends that tell me how to avoid becoming a victim: Do not leave a mall alone at night. Check your backseat. If you hear a baby crying on your front porch, do not answer the door. Many women, myself included, feel overwhelmed by the statistics and horror stories. Sometimes it is tempting just to accept violence against women as a fact of life and hope that I -- and those closest to me -- are lucky enough, or careful enough, to manage to beat the odds.

But this is the wrong attitude. As Gloria G. Lee points out in Murdered Voices, women are brought up to be passive, to keep our mouths shut, to avoid provoking anger, and to “duck and cover” rather than fight back. And it is this attitude that makes us victims. Gloria Lee teaches women to fight back. In Murdered Voices, we learn, among other things, the characteristics of batterers and their victims; the answers to common myths and frequently asked questions about violence against women; the role of risk factors such as drugs, alcohol, and adultery in creating a situation that could lead to violence; how to create a personal safety plan; and easy tips for avoiding potentially dangerous situations. Perhaps most importantly, Murdered Voices is about giving a voice to the victims of violence – for only by embracing their stories, rather than avoiding them, can we come to understand the nature of the problem. In this book, readers will meet women like Leann Dawn Fletcher, who was pregnant when she was shot by her husband; Marie Isabell Fernandez, age 17, stabbed 63 times by her jealous ex-boyfriend; and Jonique Williams, age 4, who attended a Fourth of July party and never returned home.

Murdered Voices does not allow women to become statistics or news blurbs, nor does it allow Americans to avoid looking the problem of domestic violence straight in the eye. The way to win the battle, to overcome violence against women, is to remember its victims, to talk openly about the issue, to learn all that we can, and to join together in united prayer. Only by finding the courage to take action ourselves can we make America safer for future generations, so that our daughters and their daughters can go outside, or go on a date – even leave a mall alone at night – feeling the safety they deserve.

Dedication

This book is dedicated to Carole Marie Jenkins and to the more than 252,286 women who were murdered in this country. I make this dedication because these women had more courage to live than I.

This book is dedicated to Carole Marie Jenkins one of the more than 252,287 females known by police investigation to have been murdered in America between 1930 and 2009.

This dedication was written to create a circumstance where, in the future, the women of this country will pay closer attention to the number of women being murdered around them. And upon learning of these murders, the women of this county will be called to act in whatever capacity available to them to rid this nation once and for all of violence against women.

Carole Marie Jenkins was a pretty 21 year old living in Franklin, Ohio in 1968. She was young, idealistic, beautiful, and she believed in the future. Miss Jenkins' idealism and belief in the future cost her her life. September 16, 1968 she decided to sell encyclopedias door to door in Martinsville, Ohio to make extra money. By the end of the day she lay dying on a city street stabbed to death. Her assailant used a screwdriver to stab her to death. It took thirty-four years for her murder to be solved.

Miss Jenkins and the other 252,286 females had their lives taken from them through acts of unparalleled violence and unspeakable horror. The violence visited upon these females demands that we as a nation separate the murderers from among us, and that we take measures to ensure that no more murderers are produced.

Every day, somewhere in America, the murder of a female is reported. Her murder may be reported in a newspaper. Her murder may be reported across the television. Or her murder may fill the pages of a magazine. The one place where her death will always be recorded is in the obituary found in the funeral home where her friends and family will come to mourn. Because of the number of murders occurring all around us, murder has become commonplace: an act to be expected. Murder is no longer abhorrent. Murder has become acceptable as a part of the human condition. It is as if murder is a phenomenon that society secretly believes is normal to man's existence, the ultimate characteristic of man's natural inheritance. Women are going to be murdered and there is nothing we can do about it. We can convene a court, but murder is going to continue to happen, so we might as well get use to it. Since murder makes us helpless before it, we say the victim is to blame. If only she had listened. If only she had done this instead of that. If only she had married Bob instead of Bill. Everyone knew Bob was a better catch.

If only she had gotten married, then she wouldn't have had to stand at a bus stop late at night going to work. She would have been safe inside her home. If only she had tried to make her marriage work, then she would not have had to leave for work so early in the morning. She would not have been shot while starting her car. If so and so does this, then he or she can expect that. Yet with every antidote, the victim is more and more to blame: if only they had done so and so. We shoo their relatives from the courtroom, embarrassed by their tales. We shake our heads inside the funeral home, saying, "How can this be?" Yes, how can it be that in the world's most industrialized nation, more than 252,287 females have been murdered?

We tell ourselves we are a nation of men and women governed by laws -- laws that most citizens embrace and respect. Yet in actuality, these laws are mocked whenever murder is tolerated. Our laws are also mocked when a murder is ignored. We must look at murder anew. We must see it for ourselves. We must see murder for what it is. We must see that murder destroys dreams. Murder shatters hopes and diminishes the character of man. Murder is an act that humiliates us all because we fall helplessly before it, secretly saying, "Thank God it was not I." As women we must do more: thus, Murdered Voices .

We now invite you to read Murdered Voices

Finding the Light

We would like for you to imagine that you are standing in darkness but there is a circle of light shining all around you. As you walk the circle of light moves with you. Now imagine you are walking toward another woman standing in darkness. She is also surrounded by a circle of light. Now if you continue to walk toward her, your light and her light will overlap. Now imagine that the two of you begin walking toward a third woman who is standing in darkness but also surrounded by a circle of light. As the two of you approach the third woman your lights will begin to overlap. Now there are three of you standing together in the light and you begin walking toward a fourth woman. What do you think is going to happen? The fourth woman's light will overlap the light surrounding the three of you.

Something else is also going to happen. The illumination surrounding the four of you will be greater than the illumination surrounding any one woman. We believe every woman living in this country has a light surrounding her that can help solve the problem of domestic and sexual violence. We believe women must come together with their individual lights out of the darkness to illuminate all the dark shadows and folds hiding these awful crimes. The women in this country must choose to live in the light.

“Today I am giving you a choice.....I am now giving you a choice between life and death, between God's blessing and God's curse, and I call heaven and earth to witness the choice you make.”

If the women in this country and the world begin speaking with one voice to their fathers, to their husbands, to their sons, to their brothers, to their uncles, to their nephews, to their cousins, and to their grandfathers sooner or later the men in this country and the world will hear us and they will understand that they must join us in stopping Violence Against All Women.

Our voices must become a crescendo...

In a speech before a gathering of 20 first ladies of the Western Hemisphere First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton said women worldwide should play full roles in the political lives of their countries. She said "Democracy can only achieve its fullest potential when women are not barred by law, by ignorance, by tradition or custom, or by intimidation from making their voices heard at the ballot box.

Our Purpose

Good afternoon. We are the National Institute of the Study of Violence and we have written the book Murdered Voices to have an informal conversation with the men and women of America. We would like to discuss the subject of violence against women and children, and we would also like to discuss a program we designed to tackle the problem of violence against women. In 1997, the Institute began a study of violence against women. What we learned about violence against women is being published in the series entitled Do This in Remembrance_of Me.

During the course of the study, we knew that women were being raped and murdered every day in this country. What we did not know or understand is why women were not talking about these murders and taking action. We could not understand why women were not angry enough to go beyond reading the newspaper or buying new locks. During the course of the study, we also saw domestic violence compartmentalized. It appeared that women were saying to themselves, "Congress is passing laws and the courts are issuing protection orders, so things are going along just fine." The women we read about today who were murdered are the ones who fell through the cracks: "Mistakes are going to be made." "Things like that will happen." "We all know that most of the women really don't want to leave." "If they want to stay and get killed there is nothing anyone can do about it." The Institute knew during the 1960s and the 1970s that women were adamant regarding the treatment of women, and their efforts were translated into legislation such as The Violence Against Women Act of 1994 and various state stalking laws. Nevertheless, as we continued to research, we noticed that the attitude of women began to change in the 1990s. We began to see and hear phrases such as: "I got my own life to live." "If she wants to stay with him, there is nothing I can do." "I guess she just has to wait until he kills her." "That has nothing to do with me." "My husband is not like that. I wouldn't tolerate it." "You know what prostitutes are like." "Violence against women is something women should consider, but women can't dwell on it; there are other things in life." "Let the courts handle it. We got laws now."

Every now and then during our research a group of women would voice their opinion loudly, but for the most part women were not interacting with one another across the country. We did not see women flying into the state of Washington when over forty women had disappeared or were found murdered. We did not see a stream of communication between the women of the United States, Canada, and Mexico when hundreds of women were reported missing from the Vancouver area of Canada and over two hundred girls and women were found murdered in Mexico. Articles about these women were written in magazines as public interest topics only. The fervor women displayed regarding violence against women in the 1960s and 1970s was gone. Women have better things to do than protest. The murder of a woman has become part of our everyday life. No one wants to discuss violence against women. If it is discussed, it is discussed only in passing. The subject embarrasses men, and women avoid the issue. Women seem to have resigned themselves to the knowledge that a certain number of women will be raped and murdered each year, and that is it. Murder is a normal consequence of life. One just has to be careful. Women must accept that domestic violence is something women must sleep with.

During the 1980s and 1990s, Theodore Bundy was offered to women through movies and magazine articles as the consummate murderer of women. He was portrayed as "the villain" of all time. When Bundy was executed, the newspapers presented his death as if the greatest evil in America was finally gone. The Institute says no. The greatest evil in America is not gone. The greatest evil in American is ignorance, apathy, fear, and greed. As you read, we will support this claim. Women have become silent regarding the treatment of other women. NISV believes the silence is due in part to women emulating men. Men trying to reach the top have no opinions. They do not discuss controversial issues. These men are obliging and conciliatory. We believe many of our female intellectuals have been trapped into this image. NISV believes that many of the intellectual women in this country think that if they play the game designed by men they will get where they want to go, which is to the top. Consequently, the least educated women of this country are not receiving the benefit of the ingenuity of our female intellectuals. Sally Sue working at McDonald's does not get the benefit of the knowledge accumulated by the female engineer working for the Ford Motor Company. The emergency is over. Men have decided to share a piece of the pie. Women are pictured on television as owners of homes and purchasers of cars. Women have savings accounts, and many women are lawyers or doctors. Imagine: the University of Michigan has a female president. The wife of our 42nd President is now a New York state senator. The Institute believes that women have congratulated themselves too soon. We believe that there is still a five-alarm fire in this country, except now the alarm is a silent alarm. One has to be listening to hear it. The NISV would like some of the women in America to consider these questions:

Why do you believe that there is nothing you can do to change the world? Why is it that all you do is sit at home and eat? Women have fought and died so that you can be free, and you feel no obligation to stand up and say that violence against women is wrong. Are you so afraid of controversy, that you cannot say no? Are you so afraid of being ostracized that you cannot speak out in church, telling the congregation that violence against women is real and that several women in your congregation are suffering because the preacher will not speak out against violence? Women, why are you not asking your husbands to take action? Every day, thousands of women pack school lunches for their children with just the right amount of nutritious items. Every day, thousands of women make certain their children wear the proper clothing for the weather. And every day, thousands of women work to provide for their families. But what do women do every day for their safety and the safety of their children? Nothing! You work hard to provide a life for your children. You believe you are insuring their future so that they can have a life better than yours. Well, we are going to introduce you to women whose fathers and mothers prepared them for a life that they would never live because we as women have not been insistent that this country rid itself of the behavior of violence against women.

On May 30, 1997, Brandaline Duvall, a 14- year-old honor student, was taken from a bus stop to a house and raped and tortured by nine men. Brandaline Duvall suffered this torture for four hours. One man kicked her, beat her, raped her, then stabbed her 28 times. When he was through, he choked her and threw her down a slope in a ravine and left her to die. Her murderers are alive today.

Jacine Gielinski, a 22-year-old college student living in Colorado, was kidnapped, raped, and tortured April 29, 1997 by two roommates who wanted to fulfill their rape-murder fantasies. Yet we let professionals tell us men who have rape-murder fantasies are harmless. What happens to the men when the rape murder fantasy no longer satisfies them? In the book The Career Rapist we will answer this question. Ms. Gielinski was stabbed, her throat was slashed, her wrists were slit and she was suffocated. Her murderers are still alive today. The women of this country must wake up and begin to work together to save the lives of our sisters, mothers, and children. Women are slowly and systemically being murdered in this country, and our attention is being diverted to issues such as what dress

Paris Hilton is wearing or who will Brittney Spears marry tomorrow. If you do not want your daughter, mother, niece, or grandmother to be the next victim, then you must stand up and align yourself with other women in this country fighting violence against women. You have no idea how fluid it is to murder a woman in this country. For example: March 3, 2005 Mr. Andres Casarrubias pleaded guilty in a Palm Beach County Courthouse to three counts of first-degree murder in the death of his wife, Catalina Casarrubias, Ramiro Cortez and Andrew Logan in July 2003. Mrs. Catalina Casarrubias' six children are now motherless. Mrs. Casarrubias was shot to death at work. Before her husband shot her he said, "Are You scared?" Andrew Logan died shielding his employees from Mr. Casarrubias.

Mrs. Michelle Bonner, 30, and her sister, Candice Rampersad, 18, were shot to death in 2004 in the Mamaroneck Park in New York. Mrs. Bonner was in the park to talk to her estranged husband, Clifford Bonner. He had a history of making threats. Michelle Bonner agreed to see him to discuss the care of their three children. Mrs. Bonner's three children age 7, 9, 11 are now motherless. They saw their father shoot their mother and aunt.

March 4, 2005 Mr. Jimmy Korkow, 34, was arraigned in an Anchorage, Alaska courthouse for the stabbing death of his wife, Teresa Korkow, 30, a real estate agent, in their home. Teresa Korkow's children ages 6, 7, 12 are now motherless. The children were in the home when their mother was killed. Her children have been placed in the custody of the state Office of Children's Services. In less than three years twelve children in this country were left motherless because of an act of violence toward a woman. Brandaline Duvall, 14, an honor student, Jacine Gielinski, 22, a college student, Mrs. Catalina Casarrubias, Ramiro Cortez and Andrew Logan, Mrs. Michelle Bonner, 30, and her sister, Candice Rampersad, 18, and Mrs.

Teresa Korkow, 30, a real estate agent, were women whose fathers and mothers prepared them for a life that they would never live.

Are you one of the women who believe that the topic of violence against women should be put behind us and not be discussed or is over exaggerated? Do you believe that some women are just too radical about the subject? That all feminists are homosexuals? Do you believe that things are better now that men are finally listening to women? Do you believe that men have finally agreed to share the wealth and power of this country? Do you believe that women get beat up by their husbands every day, but that we don't need to focus on these beatings? Do you feel that there are more important problems in life than women's issues? Are you more concerned about 'When are women going to have some fun?' Women need to let their hair down and enjoy life. If you are a woman who believes the above statements, then we want you to read Murdered Voices and Do This In Remembrance of Me carefully. When you finish reading, we hope that we have demonstrated that there is nothing more to life than women's issues, because if women do not deal with violence against women, there will be no life for women in America. We can prove this statement. Here is a list of 4,288 women murdered throughout this country at the beginning of the 21st Century. All of the assailants were males except three. The oldest victim is Agnes Schmidt age 92 she was murdered in the state of Michigan in 2004. The youngest victim is Yarine Yasmine Saez-Ferrer, 23 days. She died of a lacerated liver and spleen.

The shading indicates multiple victims and one assailant. There are more than 28 male victims under the age of 12. Eleven of the women listed below lived in the same state and all were murdered by the same man. Please note the number of multiple family murders and that the men are murdering their sons.

The victim - offender relationship to victim is husband, father, boyfriend, and loco parentis (stranger).

The Jane Doe victims represent the number of murdered women who are still being buried unidentified all over this country.

|---------|-------------------------------------|
| In 2000 | 3,169 women were reported murdered. |
| In 2001 | 3,314 women were reported murdered. |
| In 2002 | 3,316 women were reported murdered. |
| In 2003 | 3,251 women were reported murdered. |
| In 2004 | 3,137 women were reported murdered. |
| In 2005 | 3,155 women were reported murdered. |
| In 2006 | 3,156 women were reported murdered. |
| In 2007 | 3,177 women were reported murdered. |
| In 2008 | 3,158 women were reported murdered. |
| Total | 28,833 |

The figures do not include the 827,787 women raped in this country since 2000 to 2009. Nor the 77,294 attempted female rape victims who were brutally beaten (only preliminary stat available for 2008-09 murder victims).

The list indirectly represents children who are now motherless. These are children who will grow up without their natural protector without the knowledge and benefit of their heritage. Some of these women were strangled stabbed, mutilated, poisoned, shot, immolated, and inviscerated

There are more than seventy-six male names on the above list under the age of 16, look at their ages. Never again say that a man will not murder his children. The women and children were strangled stabbed, mutilated, poisoned, shot immolated, invicered, etc because a male was angry at the circumstances of his life. The only conclusion we want you to draw from this list is that men will murder their children and the children of other men and men will kill to avoid child support or to stop child support payments.

It is now 2011, one hundred and eleven years after the women in New Zealand had the right to vote and ninety-one years after the women in the United States were given the right to vote. Is this not quite a list? This is a horrible carnage. Someone took every-thing these women had. The women were murdered at home, at work, and on the street. Many of the women had at least one child. One woman was the mother of six children. We did not list all of the pregnant women murdered in this country in 2000 through 2010. Nor did we list all of the women murdered in this country between 2000 and 2010. The list represents only 19.7% of the 25,675 women murdered between 2000 and 2007. The figures for 2008, 2009 and 2010 are not available. The fact that the names of 5,056 women who were mothers, daughters, and sisters, women or who were pregnant, and who were married, can be named in such a short period of time should cause the women in this country pause. A silence should come over your life because the names on this page should tell you, you need to rethink your safety. The names on this page are telling you regardless of your status you need to rethink your safety and your thinking must include an escape plan allowing you to respond at a moment's notice. This list should also tell you to shut your mouth when attempting to leave and this list should tell you to leave the state when you attempt a divorce. This list should also tell you if you make any other decision you are putting the lives of your children at risk. If we consider a victim having the minimum number of patrilineal and matrilineal relatives (twenty), an employer, two friends, two neighbors and two acquaintances, the death of one person will affect twenty-seven people. Then the deaths of the above 5,056 female victims affected more than 136,512 people and the deaths of the 25,675 females that were reported between 2000 to 2007 represent more than 693,225 individuals grieving in our country. This should not be, because by years end, 2010, there will be more than one million people in this county who will have lost a friend, coworker, acquaintance, mother, daughter, sister, grandmother cousin or aunt. If life is so valuable for women to protest at abortion clinics, why aren't women protesting against the murder of these women; why are women not demanding better protection and more support from their state legislatures and the state and federal courts? Where are the crosses placed on church lawns for these victims? Are murdered women less important? Are we still adherely to the belief that somehow if a woman is murdered in her home she probably did something to upset her husband. May we are not supportive enough. Or do we still believe when a woman is raped and murdered somehow she deserved it. She brought the murder upon herself. Are we as a country so impotent that we cannot solve this problem? Where is your voice? Where is your rage? Is there a limit to the protection a society can offer its members? Do we truly believe murder cannot be prevented and that when a woman marries she is taking her chances and if she is unlucky in her choice of a mate that is just part of life? Murder is an aberrant act and it always has been a dastardly deed. Murder has always been a solution that is the conundrum, should I kill when shall I kill and who shall I kill. This enigma demands that once again women must change and confront the wretchedness of their lives. Women must be smarter, more courageous, and resolute this time and not be dissuaded by the mere passing of a few laws. This time women must care for the wounded and be willing to share a common fate.

Chapter 1

Who Are The Victims?

Murdered Voices was written to focus attention on the violence experienced by women in America. To further understand our purpose, please answer the following questions:

1. Why is the year 1492 important?
2. What occurred in 1920?
3. What happened on July 4, 1776?
4. What is the Magna Carta?
5. Why is the year 1964 important?
6. What happened in 1865?
7. What is the Bill of Rights?

Your answers should be:

1. Christopher Columbus discovered America.
2. The 19th amendment to the United States Constitution was ratified, granting women the right to vote.
3. The Declaration of Independence was written.
4. A document forced from King John enumerating certain rights.
5. The Civil Rights Act was passed in 1964.
6. The Civil War ended in 1865.

7. These are the first 10 amendments to the United States Constitution.

Understandably, you recognized most of the information. Now please answer the following questions:

1. What occurred on September 24, 1999?
2. What happened on August 16, 1999?
3. What happened on May 7, 1990?
4. Who was found on February 18, 1991?
5. What happened on April 27, 1988?
6. What occurred on December 6, 1989?
7. What happened on June 24, 1979?

Your answers should be:

1. A young girl was abducted and raped.
2. A pregnant woman was shot and killed.
3. The body of a woman was found; she had been eviscerated.
4. The body of a woman was found hog-tied and raped. Her throat had been cut.
5. The body of a woman was found; she had been shot to death.
6. Fourteen female Canadian college students were gunned down; none survived.
7. Two female teenagers, ages thirteen and fourteen, were abducted, raped, and murdered. A woman assisted in the abduction.

How well did you do on the second set of questions? Did you get any of them right? If you did not answer at least one question right in the second set, ask yourself why. Here is a third set of questions:

Why did you not know of the murder of these women? What is occurring in this country that diverts your attention so that you do not know the names and circumstances of the deaths of these women? Is it possible that you think the murder of other females does not affect you? Is it possible that you think death is some one else's tragedy?

In April 1993, the former United States Surgeon General, C. Everett Koop, said that the rising level of violence in this nation should be classified as a national health emergency. C. Everett Koop felt that defining violence as a health issue would force the nation to take a broader look at the violence occurring throughout the country. His suggestion was ignored. This country did not attack violence against women as a national crisis. All we did was have more and more conversations. We did not have a final resolution that any and every thing would be done to prevent the murder of women in the streets and the murder of women in their homes. When this section was written in 1999, we then discussed the murders of:

Patricia Woodall
Marilyn Ray
Mrs. Chung-bok Hong
Marie Isabell Fernandez, 17
Mrs. Mildred Cantrell, 41
Tara Cantrell, age 19
Amy Watkins
Tina Blunt
Esperanza Perez Rodriguez, 24
Amanda Miller, 3
Karen Sirnic
Olivia Munguia
Jessica Zavala, 17
Jonique William, 4
Mrs. Leeann Dawn Fletcher, 29
Brenda Millender, 27
Sheila Williams, 20
Rhonda Nichols
Hermetta Harris, 33
Martha Gail Fulton, 48
Lisa Marie Price, 31
Sharron Murphy, 31

Wanda Harrington

Amanda Hodges, 17

Chantel Roberts, 18

Kayla McKean, 6, and the eight Jane Does found in Chicago, Illinois - later identified as Tommie Dennis, Shaquanta Langley, Sonya Brandon, 32, Nicole Townsend, Evandre Harris, Mrs. Cheryl Cotton-Cross, Sheryl Johnson, 44, and Constance Bailey 41

Do you recognize the names of any of these women? Do you know what happened to them? These women were all murdered in 1999. These women are the reason why Murdered Voices was written. Too many women in this country are being murdered, and no one knows their names except family and friends. Too often their murders are reported by the phrase, "the body of a woman was found." The phrase "a body was found" is not enough to sum up the life of a woman. Briefly, this is what happened in 1999 to the thirty-four women listed above:

January 4, 1999

Mrs. Patricia Woodall, 55, Tennessee

She was killed by a hit and run driver. The case is still open. "There's no way to describe it. You go to bed at night and visualize your wife being drug under a truck. The driver had to see her." Paul Woodall, husband

January 28, 1999

Mrs. Marilyn Ray, 29

Her soon to be ex-husband, Steven Ray, 38, murdered her. After he murdered Marilyn Ray, her ex-husband returned to her home, abducted his stepdaughter, and took the stepdaughter to his home in Mississippi where he repeatedly raped her. After arrest warrants were issued he committed suicide before he could be apprehended.

February 3, 1999

Mrs. Chung-bok Hong, 52, California

She was murdered during a robbery. Her assailant was a male.

February 5, 1999

Marie Isabell Fernandez, 17

Authorities believe her ex-boyfriend murdered Marie Fernandez. She was stabbed sixty-three times. She was stabbed directly in the heart twice. Her father found her body when he returned home. The boyfriend was said to be extremely jealous. The phrase "extremely jealous" is the catch all phrase men use in court to explain their behavior: "I was so upset, I had to kill her." "I was so angry that I went insane." "So surely the court can understand and will sentence me to only a few years in prison." The defense attorney asks the court to understand the murderer: "He killed her in a moment of passion, a moment that will never happen again." My client has learned his lesson: "He knows better now. A violent countenance is totally out of character for the defendant."

March 8, 1999

Mildred Cantrell, 41, mother of Georgia

Tara Cantrell, 19, pregnant

Authorities believe Tara's jealous ex-boyfriend murdered the mother and daughter. November 22, 2003 Michael W. Buttram, 30, was sentenced to life in prison without parole to avoid the death penalty.

March 8, 1999

Amy Watkins

She was stabbed to death in a robbery attempt while walking home from work. David Jamison, 28, was sentenced to 25 years to life after being convicted of second-degree murder and robbery. He realized $8.00 for his efforts. His alleged accomplice, Felix Rodriguez, was the look out. They reasoned that Ms. Watkins was an easy target so they attacked her.

March 1999

Mrs. Carole Sund, 42

Julie Sund, 15

Silvina Pelosso, 16, Argentinian visitor

All three women were murdered while visiting Yosemite National Park. Their assailant, Cary Stayner, was convicted and sentenced to death.

March 31, 1999

Tina Blunt, 31, California

She was a mother of two. She was last seen about 3:30 a.m. March 31 as she left for work at Meadows Field. Her case is unsolved. There was a $40,000 reward.

April 8, 1999

Esperanza Perez Rodriguez, 24

Authorities believe Mrs. Rodriguez was murdered so that the woman who befriended Esperanza Rodriguez could steal her child. Mrs. Rodriguez is not the first Hispanic woman who has been murdered because someone wanted to steal a child.

April 19, 1999

Amanda Lee Miller, age 3 - Texas

Amanda Miller's body was found along a roadside. She had been suffocated. The body of Amanda's brother, Dominick Logan Cornelius, 2, was also found. Their mother was convicted and sentenced to 60 years in prison.

May 2, 1999

Mrs. Karen Sirnic, 73 - Texas

A robber murdered Karen Sirnic and her husband, Rev. Norman Sirnic, while they slept.

June 8, 1999

Olivia Munguia, 17 - California
Jessica Zavala, 15

Both young women were shot in the back while walking to school. Their assailant is believed to be the ex-boyfriend of Olivia Munguia. Case unsolved.

July 4, 1999
Jonique William, 4

Jonique William attended a party July 4th. After the party, she could not be found. The next day her body was found in the swimming pool at the home where she attended the party. Case unsolved.

August 16, 1999

Mrs. Leeann Dawn Fletcher, 29 - Michigan

It is alleged that her husband shot her in the head because she was pregnant. Authorities believe Mr. Fletcher was committing adultery and wanted out of the marriage because he wanted to marry his mistress. Mrs. Fletcher was no longer his equal. She was not educated. She earned her living with her hands. Her husband was subsequently convicted.

August 22, 1999

Brenda Millender, 27 - Michigan

Her body was found; cause of death unknown.

September 7, 1999

Sheila Kay Williams, 20 - Michigan

It is alleged that Sheila Williams' boyfriend shot her to death because Sheila told him she was pregnant. She was not pregnant. Josiah Park Ward, 19, was convicted of second-degree murder. He is eligible for parole June 1, 2013.

September, 1999

Rhonda Nichols Michigan

It is alleged that Rhonda Nichols' boyfriend shot her to death because she was pregnant with twins.

September 29, 1999

Hermetta Harris, 33 - Michigan

Her body was found; cause of death unknown.

October 1, 1999

Harold Ann East, 53 – Washington D.C.

Dorothy Redd, 65

Allegedly, both women were murdered by Dorothy Redd's grandson. Harold Ann East was shot and Dorothy Redd was strangled.

October 4, 1999

Mrs. Martha Gail Fulton, 48 - Michigan

Martha Fulton was shot to death while leaving work. A female was charged with the murder. The female and two males she hired were subsequently convicted.

October 7, 1999

Lisa Marie Price, 31

Her body was found in Flint, Michigan. Cause of death not provided.

October 7, 1999

Mrs. Sharron Murphy, 31 – Michigan

It is alleged that Sharron Murphy was hacked to death by her husband (boyfriend). When the authorities arrived at the home, the husband was walking through the house with a knife in hand, drenched in blood. We did not see a conviction. Sharron Murphy's 8 year old daughter was attacked.

October 15, 1999

Mrs. Wanda Harrington - Michigan

It is alleged that Wanda Harrington's husband shot her and two of her children to death in their home. If the allegation is true, Wanda Harrington is the second wife her husband has murdered. He was found guilty.

October 1999

Amanda Hodges, 17, and

Chantel Roberts, 18, Canadian visitors

It is alleged that the two women were robbed and murdered by their bodyguards in Detroit, Michigan. One man was convicted of their murder.

October 1999

The bodies of eight women (Jane Does) were found in Chicago, Illinois. The women were later identified as: Constance Bailey, 41 (found June 1999); Sheryl Johnson, 44 (found April 1999); Cheryl Cotton-Cross (found December 18, 1998); Evandre Harris (found August 1998); Nicole Townsend (found August 1998); Sonya Brandon, 32 (found July 1998); Shawuanta Langley, and Tommie Dennis. Later, authorities linked the murder of Angel Shatten (found in 1995) and Patricia Dunns (found September 1993) to the deaths of the other eight women found murdered. Finally, the country was told that one man murdered all ten women.

There were several men killing in the area. This particular murderer was hiding in plain view.

October 1999

Kayla McKean, 6 - Florida

It is alleged that Kayla McKean's father beat her to death. Richard Adams, 26, was convicted of murder and child abuse. The prosecutor asked for the death penalty.

The above murders took place across America. It seems that former United States Surgeon General C. Everett Koop was right: violence is a national health issue. We hope you realize that we can continue to list the names of women in America that were murdered in 1999. In fact, we can list the names of many of the women murdered in 1989, 1979, 1969, 1959 and 1949.

In the year 2003, we have read or heard about the murders or disappearances of at least thirty-six women and children. Their names are:

Adrianna Flowers, 20

She is missing from Louisiana as of January 2003.

Stephanie Pepper Sims, 32

Her alleged assailant goes on trial in 2005. Her body was found in Louisiana January 2003.

Linda Krummel, 53

She was murdered in Louisiana.

Mari Ann Fowler

She is missing from Louisiana.

Gina Wilson Green, 41

Charlotte Murray Pace, 22

Pam Kinamore, 44

Trineisha Dene Colombo, 23, and

Carrie Lynn Yoder, 26

Geralyn Desoto, 21

Because of the toll the trials were taking on the victim's relatives in Louisiana the state prosecutor decided not to try Mr. Derrick Todd Lee for any more murders after getting a conviction and a death sentence in two murder trials. Mr. Lee was linked to the murder of eight women through DNA. It took a Baton Rouge jury less than 80 minutes to find Derrick Todd Lee guilty of capital murder.

Priscilla Durden, 29

Terry Jackson, 36

Gloria Stanford, 45

Unidentified Woman 1991 Calcasieu Parish - Vinton
Unidentified Woman 1997 Calcasieu Parish - Starks

The murders of the above five Louisiana women are still unsolved.

Mrs. Laci Peterson, pregnant

She was reported missing December 24, 2002. Her body was later found in California. Her husband was convicted of murder. Jeanette Snyder (Accord,) 28

She has been missing from her home since January 13, 2003. Her boyfriend, Lyle Montgomery 42, committed suicide April 8, 2003 after being questioned by the police.

Sally Kay Paajanen, 34, and Craig Allen Fleck, 31,

Both of Munising, Michigan was murdered February 14, 2003. February 17, 2003 man was arraigned on two open counts of murder.

Chandra Levy

Her body was found on May 22, 2002 in Washington D.C.

Mrs. Nancy Jean Ludwig, 41

She was murdered in 1991. Her assailant, Jeffrey W. Gorton, 39, of Vienna Township, Michigan was charged with her murder February 27, 2002. He was convicted in 2003.

Mrs. Margrette Eby, 55

She was murdered in 1986. Her assailant, Jeffrey W. Gorton, 39, of Vienna Township, Michigan was charged with murder February 27, 2002. He was convicted in 2003.

Mrs. Kathleen Peterson, 48

Mrs. Peterson of North Carolina was murdered on December 9, 2001. Her husband was convicted of her murder in July 2003.

Jane Doe

Her body was found on May 5, 2001 in the Detroit River. Her death has not been mentioned since the day her body was found. Her death was used as a news blip.

Mrs. Bonny Blake

She was shot to death on May 4, 2001 in California. Her husband was acquitted of murder.

Erin Johnson, 21

On April 28, 2001, her body was found in Mexico. Her boyfriend is a suspect.

Kirstie Rumsey, 7

Brittany Whalen Rumsey, 11

Dylan Rumsey, 9

All three children were shot to death in Texas on February 12, 2001. Their father committed shortly after murdering his children.

Brenda Hernandez, 30

She was shot to death on February 11, 2001.

Mrs. Sharon Randolph

Sharron Randolph was shot to death outside a restaurant in 1982. July 21, 2000, her husband was charged with her murder. He was later convicted of murder. The prosecutor said he hired a hit man to kill his wife. There is doubt to his guilt.

Cynthia Jacques, 22
Allissa Jacques, 2
Candace Wertz, 20, and
John M. Cortez, 2

On April 21, 2000, the car that the above four people were riding in was shoved into a train. A man was charged and convicted of the crime. As you can see, many of the victims of violence against women are children.

Anita Gordon, 63
She was shot to death on April 19, 2000.

Susan Keller, 45,
Dixie Esaki, 35,
Anjanette Penzica

The above three women were murdered between 2001 and 2002. October 2, 2003 Mr. Charles Atwood of Louisiana pleaded guilty to three counts of first-degree murder.

Evelyn Hernandez, 24, pregnant
Alex Hernandez , age 5

Her body was found on July 24, 2002. Her son is missing. The media paid very little attention to her murder. Evelyn Hernandez was due to deliver her second son May 7, 2002
Connie B. Warner

She was murdered in August 1992 in Louisiana. Her murder is still unsolved.

Randi C. Mebruer

She was murdered on April 18, 1992 in Louisiana. Her murder is still unsolved.

Mrs. Louella Arcuir, 69
Mr. Sam Arcuir, 76
Lillian Phillipe, 71
Joan Brock, 55,
Barbara Bourgeois, 58
Mr. Victor Riossi

In 2001, a man was sentenced to death for murdering the above two men and four women.

Here is a summary of a 2003 article published regarding a man living in New York:

June 10, 2003: Mr. John Jamelske, age 68, of Syracuse, New York, pleaded guilty to five counts of first-degree kidnapping. Mr. Jamelske is a retired handyman. He held five women captive as sex slaves in an underground dungeon. He was arrested April 7, 2003. A plea agreement was reached. Authorities say the victims were a fourteen-year-old girl taken in 1988 (held for three years); a thirteen-year-old girl in 1995, a fifty-three- year-old woman in 1997, a twenty-six-year-old in 2001, and a sixteen-year-old kidnapped October 2002 and held until April 7, 2003. Mr. Jamelske has been kidnapping women for the last fifteen years and using them as sex slaves. Mr. Jamelske forced the women to have sex with him. One woman got away and told the police that a man held her captive and assaulted her, but the police did not believe her the police scoffed at her. The police did not going look for her tormentor.

This is what the First Chief Assistant District Attorney, Rick Trunfio, said in court:

"Mr. Jamelske told us last month he decided to kidnap the women after his ailing wife, Dorothy, was no longer able to have sex. His reason was that he wanted a sexual relationship with monogamous partners who he was sure were not out getting diseases."

"He's a very controlling, very manipulative and smart guy," "He knows that legally he's done something wrong, but I don't think in his heart he really thinks he's done anything wrong."

Mr. Jamelske's wife died in 1999, but he kept kidnapping women and forcing them to have sex with him, rather than seek a legitimate relationship. This behavior was easier and simpler. He did not care that he was violating the rights of the women he was enslaving. To his neighbors and friends, Mr. Jamelske appeared to be a fine, upstanding citizen whom no one suspected. Mr. Jamelske held the women in two underground rooms, furnished with a television, a Bible, and foam rubber to sleep on.

In the early 1980s, Mr. Jamelske built the concrete bunker, accessible only through a tunnel from the basement of his home in DeWitt, New York, a suburb of Syracuse. When he released the women, he threatened them with death if they told on him. Several women came forward in 2003 after the sixteen-year-old victim was brave enough to confront Mr. Jamelske. A plea agreement was reached, so Mr. Jamelske will only be sentenced to eighteen years in prison. What we would like to know is if Mr. Jamelske is eligible for parole. The prosecutor said that Mr. Jamelske doesn't believe he did anything wrong, so what is to prevent Mr. Jamelske from constructing another series of tunnels in another house if released from prison on parole?

In light of Mr. Jamelske's behavior and the behavior of the men who murdered the above women in 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, and 2003, would you not say that violence against women is still a very important issue? If violence against women is not still an important issue, why are we able to record so many names of women murdered in 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003, 2004, 2005, and 2006?

Violence against women is very much an issue. We know the above information is disturbing and unpleasant and a subject most people want to ignore, but we offer this information to demonstrate the need for your involvement. In all but one of the above cases, a male is either in custody or a suspect in the crime. Their relationship to the victims is father, husband, boyfriend, acquaintance, or stranger. One man who was charged with six counts of murder said he murdered his victims because he needed money to support his gambling habit. Remember the very first list we introduced in the preface: what we did not tell you is one man murdered six of the women listed and is suspected in the death of two other women. He is suspected of murdering women in two states. There is another group of five women who were murdered by one man in the same state. In Volume Three, The Career Rapist, we will discuss these men. You need to know how these men kill and their victimology so you can avoid becoming a victim. There is much to learn. Danger is a fact of life but with a little knowledge women can escape some of the dangers. Many of the women murdered on the first list were murdered because they believed their assailant's smile.

To show you how pervasive violence against women is, we offer a partial list of the dead. Please read the name of each woman out loud and mentally note her age:

As you read the list, do not be fooled by the last names. We deliberately published women with Spanish surnames to demonstrate how easy it is for people to think only Blacks and Spanish men murder women. In the book Do This In Remembrance of Me, we discuss how the misguided belief that only Black men and Spanish men are murderers has led to the death of hundreds of White women in this country. We also discuss how this belief has led to many White men being given low bond to get out of jail for the act of rape or being given probation after committing murder. The privilege of color extends to murder. Please continue to read the names of more of the women murdered in this country:

As you read the names of the women and children listed above, were you aware that these women were murdered in every state in the Union? Not only were these women murdered all across America, but they left behind hundreds of family members and friends who will mourn them for years and years to come. More importantly they left behind children who are now motherless. When you read Do This In Remembrance of Me, you will learn more about other women and their assailants.

It is now January 11, 2010, eleven years later; violence against persons is still at a record high. Women are still being murdered at home and at work as they were in 1999 and 2003.

We listed the names of the women above to demonstrate how pervasive violence against women has become in this country, and to substantiate the claim that we can list either the name or the number of women who were murdered in this county in most decades since 1930. We also had you read the list of names to substantiate this statement:

You are a target ...

1. If you work late at night.
2. If you catch a bus late at night.
3. If you have to lock up at work late at night.
4. If you work with men who have criminal records, especially criminals who have their records hidden by the state. These men are found in school service, convenience stores, fast food restaurants, and as kitchen help in restaurants.
5. If you are mentally handicapped.
6. If you leave for work every morning, repeating the same behavior.
7. If you are between the ages of 12 and 19.
8. If you leave your bedroom window open when you sleep.
9. If you drive home the same way every day.

10. If you do not vary your habits weekly.
11. If you are not cautious.
12. If you are preoccupied all the time and do not watch the people around you.
13. If you are shy, afraid to say no.
14. If you are a college student.
15. If you are more concerned about how people view you.
16. If you lack confidence.
17. If you are a follower.
18. If you use marijuana.
19. If you leave your drink on your table or on the bar while you go to the bathroom or to the dance floor.
20. If you allow someone to bring you a drink, rather than pouring the drink yourself.
21. If you do not drive your own car to a date.
22. If you do not bring cash with you when you are on a date.
23. If you do not plan for emergencies and do not pay attention to directions when you are being driven to various destinations by your date.
24. If you drive late at night.
25. If your co-workers know you drive home by yourself at night.
26. If you discuss your private affairs at work.
27. If you discuss your living arrangements at work.
28. If you have children and you rely upon unrelated males to baby-sit your children.
29. If you pick up men in bars.
30. If you do not investigate men you meet before asking them to your home or before going out on a date with them.
31. If you work at a convenience store or gas station, especially a store that uses a skeleton crew.
32. When you shop with your children.
33. If you have not learned to control your impulse to chat aimlessly to co-workers.
34. If you think you have the freedom to recreate or exercise whenever and wherever you please.
35. If you use a window air conditioner.
36. If you do not have an alarm on your house.
37. If people know where your children sleep.

Why are you a target in these situations? You are a target because there is always someone watching? There is always someone looking for an easy target. There is always some one looking for a stray. There is always someone who believes he will not be caught. There is always someone who believes he is so smart and cunning no one will know he committed the crime. Some men constantly drive around, day and night, looking for easy prey. You must be mindful every second of the day that someone may be watching you, trying to decide when the best moment is to attack. There is no such thing as an innocuous man. Your neighbor who stands outside in the courtyard in your apartment building smoking a cigarette appears harmless doesn't he. All he is doing is smoking a cigarette because his wife does not want him to smoke in the house. Well think again. He is the most danger person in your life. Why because he is in a position to record your habits and he lives close to you. He knows what time your get up in the morning (by your lights) and he knows when your leave for work, and he knows when you return home, he knows your male friends, he knows your family members and their cars. He knows whether or not you have a car or whether you have to walk to a bus stop in the morning. He knows whether you have to take your children to a babysitter or your 9- year old to school. He knows when you go shopping and what time you start your car in the morning during the winter months. Just because you are a friend of his wife does not mean he (Paul Frederick Runge) will not murder you (Stacy Fobel, 24) and any one else present in the home when he decides to attack. Many of the women listed above were murdered by their married neighbors, some with children. So a second piece of knowledge you now have is married men with children are just as dangers as single men without children.

The next time you see your neighbor smoking in the courtyard rather than retreat into your home, sit inside and watch him. You will be surprise of what you will learn. Watch the labels on the packages he carries into the house. Or have you noticed you never see him carrying packages into his home? Does this mean he conducts all of his business at night while you and your neighbors are asleep? Watch the packages delivered to him. Are the package coverings plain with no markings maybe this is the pornographic information he is receiving in the mail or the torture device he is going to set up in his home. Many children are restrained and tortured in apartments (Fernando Velazco Cota, 1984, Kim Marie Dunham). Your smoking neighbor feels safe because he believes no one is watching him.

Sit down and review your habits during the day, asking yourself, "What are the risk behaviors in my life that I can change to improve my chances of not being assaulted?" Also, remember that men hunt in pairs. Two cousins that do not work can be a deadly combination (see The Career Rapist).

Hundreds of women are being raped and murdered every day throughout this world because they are afraid to offend, afraid to say no, afraid of not being liked, and many are being murdered because they want to be accepted. The Career Rapist has a perfect victim in this woman. She is easily seduced; she is obedient and cooperative. She offers very little resistance. She is concerned with appearances. She is passive. Women are passive by training. They are taught every day to be obedient; to be kind; to be considerate, giving everyone the benefit of the doubt. In the street, this does not work.

You are the perfect victim if you exhibit any of the above behaviors in public. You must remember that there are sexual predators everywhere one just drove past your home. One is sitting next to you at work. One is living down the street in your girlfriend's house. You were speaking to one on the playground while you were watching your children play. Sexual predators can be your grandfather, your uncle, your boss, your co-worker or your girlfriend's husband, etc. They can be your brother, your nephew, your cousin, or your father. This is why the Institute says that women must always be on the alert! Remember: you must snoop, listen and pry. You do not want to be the last to know.

We have two more lists of names we would like for you to read now. The first list consists of the names of some of the murder-suicide victims in Iowa, Nebraska, and North Dakota from 1997 through 2003. The second list contains names of murder-suicide victims from around the country murdered in 2003.

The relationship of the assailant to the victim is husband, rejected suitor, son-in-law, father, or mother. We offer this list to the women in this country who believe that violence against women is a moot issue. Years ago, the heading in newspapers for the victims listed below would have read "murder-suicide pact," suggesting that the woman agreed to die with her husband or boyfriend. The pair loved one another so much that they chose to die together. We now know that this is not true. There was no pact. The pair was not another Romeo and Juliet. The woman did not want to preserve her love into eternity. It was the man who decided that, for whatever reason, the woman or his family should die. You need to know that the act of murder-suicide does follow divorce requests. Mrs. Janice Maryann Baccellieri-Aichele, 28, of Oregon, was murdered October 6, 1994 after asking for a divorce. Her husband shot her five times: three times in the back and twice in the head. Mrs. Aichele had a newborn baby. Her husband was a police officer.

As you read the two lists, note the ages of the victims and the specific groups involved in murder-suicides. After you read the list, ask yourself one question: "What has changed?" There are married women on this list. There are single women on the list. There are women with children on the list, and there are new husbands, new boyfriends, or male relatives of the female victims on the list. The person's name who is not on the list is the husband or boyfriend. The husband or the boyfriend is the assailant in almost every case. A husband will kill when the wife moves from the home. A husband will kill if the wife asks for a divorce or asks for a separation. And the husband will kill if the woman begins a new relationship. He keeps tabs on her through friends and family or through stalking.

We want it to be understood by every female reading this book that when faced with change, the male will kill. Women need to understand this fact. Men kill when faced with change. A divorce is a form of change. A separation is a form of change. Waving a protection order in a man's face is a form of change. Because you are telling him that he no longer has control. Asking for a divorce or separation or telling a man you are leaving is change and it is a form of rejection and men react violently to rejection and change. A man killed his 16-year old daughter and attacked his in laws because he wanted his wife to come back home. His wife left him and was staying with her parents. He believed that if his in laws had not allowed their daughter to return home his wife would have come back to him because she would not have had any where else to go. His theory was "when you eliminate the options available to a woman she has to return home." The proposition never occurred to him that if you changed maybe she would come back home or if you had changed she never would have left. He was not concerned with changing his behavior just getting his wife back. His thinking was predicated on eliminating his wife's options, not on his changing his behavior. "All I have to do is make certain my wife has no place to escape."

Ladies please take note of this logic. Changing is not necessarily a man's dominante concern. Just making certain you have no other option but him and if you do have an option to destroy that pathway. Do not put yourself in the position where the only alternative to your suffering is returning to your husband in compliance. The underlying nuance in the relationship between men and women is that the man knows a woman without resources is helpless. She has to accept her fate.

Make your plans now while things are good in your relationship. Think of the possibilities. Do not wait until things get bad before you act. Plan now and be safe later. You do not wait until the chicken is out of the hen house to put a latch on the door. It is foolhardy for you to say he will never hit me or tell me to leave or ask for a divorce. What do you think they are doing at the Pentagon, twiddling their fingers? Those men are playing war games. Men plan all the time for possibilities. Do you believe a general says to his troops "We will wait for a war to come, then we will plan our strategy. At that time we will consider our strengths or limitations?" Walk up to any person in a military uniform and ask him or her "are you prepared for war?" They will say unequivocally without hesitation that they are. You will notice when the person says "yes" the body language changes indicating their mental posture.

Keep a part time job. Learn a new skill, a skill unfamiliar to you. Get a real estate license and go to work for a large company like Century 21. Later put your license in escrow. When you need it you can easily start anew. Join several women's group outside of your sorority. Attend more than one church. Widen your horizons; befriend a woman who is more intelligent than you (an engineer or architect). Broaden your base of operations and sphere of influence. Your planning before hand does not have to be discussed with or meet the approval of your girlfriend. You will be more confident and have more respect for yourself if you have an escape route and a survival plan that does not include going to a shelter or to your parent's home. Just like the generals in the Pentagon who are responsible for the welfare of their troops you are responsible for the welfare of your children. So you must always be prepared. Plan now and be safe later.

If you do not have an emergency plan to protect you and your children or you do not think your life is in danger, then you need to read "A Message from the Prosecuting Attorney of Clark County, Indiana." This message discusses the characteristics of violence against women. Once you read this message you will have a deeper understanding of the dangers facing women who live in close relationships with men. You must always be prepared to flee. Do not bet your life or the lives of your children on the character of your husband or boyfriend. Ninety percent of the women listed in this book made assumptions as to what a man would or would not do. January 1, 2003 Lisa Hargrave, of Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, was strangled to death at 4:00a.m.

She was pregnant. She and her boyfriend were arguing. Who would think a man would strangle his pregnant girlfriend?

Mrs. Leann Dawn Fletcher's husband, Michael John Fletcher, was an attorney. He was committing adultery with an area judge, and Mrs. Fletcher was in the way. So he shot his wife to death in their home and said she committed suicide. Mrs. Fletcher, 29, was pregnant when she was murdered. Who would think a man would shot his pregnant wife? We now ask you to read:

A Message from the Prosecuting Attorney:

The prosecution of domestic violence is among the highest priorities of the Office of the Clark County Prosecuting Attorney.

The unique dynamics of domestic violence create inherent problems in the criminal justice system. Over the length of an intimate and abusive relationship, victims of domestic violence are constantly told the abuse is their fault. They will feel guilt for summoning aid from police, and feel responsible for the sanctions imposed by the criminal justice system. Because they often live in a world dominated by psychological terror, they will be very reluctant to "cooperate" with authorities. This is especially true if the system offers them no assistance, no protection, and no relief. Society often perpetuates the myths that domestic violence is the fault of the woman, who only had to leave to solve the problem. Police, Prosecutors, Probation Officers, and Judges have to be better educated in order to effectively deal with the problem.

Intervention systems must not overlook the children, who are themselves victims. The cycle of violence will continue from generation to generation. Children who witness domestic violence in the home are many times more likely to be abusive adults. This is a cost our society cannot afford to pay.

It is impossible to expect the victim of domestic violence to negotiate the complex maze of the legal system without help. Victim advocates who are knowledgeable about the legal system, and who understand the dynamics of domestic violence, must be available to give assistance. Through the Victim Assistance Program and the Domestic Violence Unit of the Clark County Prosecuting Attorney, help and information is available. An effective coordinated response to domestic violence is essential. Only with the aid of these dedicated professionals can true justice and healing be accomplished.

We are proud to assist in making these important services available to the citizens of Clark County.

Domestic violence occurs among all kinds of people. It cuts across cultural, economic and social boundaries. It can involve the person you've worked with for ten years, your best friend who married her childhood sweetheart, your teenage daughter who just met someone new and exciting, or your next-door neighbor. Together, we can prevent domestic violence. We must work together towards the common goal of insuring the safety of victims, and holding offenders accountable and responsible for their behavior. We must learn to take action.

What is Domestic Violence?

Domestic Violence is a violent confrontation between family or household members involving physical harm, sexual assault, or fear of physical harm. Family or household members include spouses / former spouses, those in (or formerly in) a dating relationship, adults related by blood or marriage, and those who have a biological or legal parent-child relationship.

Domestic violence destroys the home. No one deserves to be abused. The responsibility for the violence belongs to the abuser. It is not the victim's fault!

Symptoms of Abuse - Misuse of Power And Control

Abuse in a relationship is any act used to gain power and control over another person. Women who are abused physically are often isolated. Their partners tend to control their lives to a great extent as well as verbally degrade them.

Listed below are some of the warning signs of domestic abuse. Look to see if there are multiple warning signs that are occurring in your life.

USING PHYSICAL AND SEXUAL ABUSE

Hair pulling, biting, shaking, pushing, pinching, choking, kicking, confinement, slapping, hitting, punching, using weapons, forced intercourse, unwanted sexual touching in public or in private, and depriving her of food or sleep.

USING EMOTIONAL ABUSE

Insulting her in public or in private

Putting down her friends and family

Making her feel bad about herself

Calling her names

Making her think she's crazy

Playing mind games

Humiliating her

Making her feel guilty

Using Male Privilege; acting like "Master of the Castle"

Treating her like a servant

Making all the big decisions

Being the one to define men's and women's roles.

USING ECONOMIC ABUSE

Preventing her from getting or keeping a job

Making her ask for money

Giving her an allowance

Taking her money

Not letting her know about or have access to family income

Not allowing her a voice in important financial decisions

Demanding exclusive control over household finances.

USING COERCION AND THREATS

Making or carrying out threats to do something to hurt her

Threatening to leave her, or to commit suicide

Threatening to report her to welfare

Making her drop charges

Making her do illegal things.

USING INTIMIDATION

Making her afraid by using looks, gestures, or actions

Throwing or smashing things, destroying property

Abusing pets

Dangerous driving

Displaying weapons.

USING CHILDREN

Making her feel guilty about the children

Using the children to relay messages

Using visitation to harass her

Threatening to take the children away.

USING ISOLATION

Controlling what she does, who she sees, what she reads, and where she goes

Limiting her outside involvement

Refusing to let her learn to drive, go to school, or get a job

Not allowing her to freely use the car or the telephone.

USING JEALOUSY AND BLAME TO JUSTIFY ACTIONS

Minimizing, Denying, Blaming

Making light of the abuse and not taking her concerns about it seriously

Checking up on where she's been or who she's talked to

Accusing her of infidelity

Saying the abuse didn't happen

Shifting responsibility for abusive behavior

Saying she caused it.

Why Get Help?

The danger is real.

If you are controlling or have a controlling partner, don't ignore these behaviors. They are not the result of stress, anger, drugs, or alcohol. They are learned behaviors that one person uses to dominate, intimidate, and manipulate. They are destructive and dangerous.

If the abuse continues without outside help, the abusing partner may risk being arrested, going to jail, or losing the relationship.

Domestic violence hurts all family members. When a person is abusive he or she eventually loses the trust and respect of his or her partner. Abused partners are afraid to communicate their feelings and needs.

Everyone has the right to feel safe in a relationship. With help, people who are abusive can learn to be non-violent.

Learn the Warning Signs

Disagreements develop from time to time in relationships. Domestic violence is not a disagreement. It is a whole pattern of behaviors used by one partner to establish and maintain power and control over the other. These behaviors can become more frequent and intense over time.

The abusive person is responsible for these behaviors. That person is the only one who can change them. Don't wait until you and the ones you love get hurt. You Are Not Alone. Consider getting some help. Talk with friends about your situation.

Fast Facts on Domestic Violence

Battering on women is the most under-reported crime in America. Domestic violence is the leading cause of injury to women between the ages of 15 and 44 in the United States; more than car accidents, muggings, and rapes combined. ("Violence Against Women, A Majority Staff Report," Committee on the Judiciary, United States Senate, 102nd Congress, October 1992, p.3.)

Three to four million women in the United States are beaten in their homes each year by their husbands, ex-husbands, or male lovers. ("Women and Violence," Hearings before the U.S. Senate Judiciary Committee, August 29 and December 11, 1990, Senate Hearing 101-939, pt. 1, p. 12.)

One woman is beaten by her husband or partner every 15 seconds in the United States. (Uniform Crime Reports, Federal Bureau of Investigation, 1991.)

About 1 out of 4 women are likely to be abused by a partner in her lifetime. (Sara Glazer, "Violence, Against Women" CO Researcher, Congressional Quarterly, Inc., Volume 3, Number 8, February, 1993, p. 171.)

Approximately 95% of the victims of domestic violence are women. (Statistics, National Clearinghouse for the Defense of Battered Women, Ruth Peachey, M.D. 1988.)

Police report that between 40% and 60% of the calls they receive, especially on the night shift, are domestic violence disputes. (Carrillo, Roxann "Violence Against Women: An Obstacle to Development," Human Development Report, 1990.)

Battering occurs among people of all races, ages, socio-economic classes, religious affiliations, occupations, and educational backgrounds.

Fifty percent of all homeless women and children in this country are fleeing domestic violence. (Senator Joseph Biden, U.S. Senate Committee on the Judiciary, Violence Against Women: Victims of the System, 1991.)

A battering incident is rarely an isolated event.

Battering tends to increase and become more violent over time.

Many batterers learned violent behavior growing up in an abusive family.

25% - 45% of all women who are battered are battered during pregnancy.

Domestic violence does not end immediately with separation. Over 70% of the women injured in domestic violence cases are injured after separation. Domestic violence is not only physical and sexual violence, but also psychological. Psychological violence means intense and repetitive degradation, creating isolation, and controlling the actions or behaviors of the spouse through intimidation or manipulation to the detriment of the individual. ("Five Year State Master Plan for the Prevention of and Service for Domestic Violence." Utah State Department of Human Services, January 1994)

MYTH AND FACTS ABOUT DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

MYTH #1: DOMESTIC VIOLENCE AFFECTS ONLY A SMALL PERCENTAGE OF THE POPULATION AND IS RARE.

FACT: National studies estimate that 3 to 4 million women are beaten each year in our country. A study conducted in 1995 found that 31% of women surveyed admitted to having been physically assaulted by a husband or boyfriend. Domestic violence is the leading cause of injury to women between the ages of 15 and 44 in our country, and the FBI estimates that a woman is beaten every 15 seconds. Thirty percent of female homicide victims are killed by partners or ex-partners and 1,500 women are murdered as a result of domestic violence each year in the United States.

MYTH #2: DOMESTIC VIOLENCE OCCURS ONLY IN POOR, UNEDUCATED, AND MINORITY FAMILIES.

FACT: Studies of domestic violence consistently have found that battering occurs among all types of families, regardless of income, profession, region, ethnicity, educational level, or race. However, the fact that lower income victims and abusers are over-represented in calls to police, battered women's shelters and social services may be due to a lack of other resources.

MYTH #3: THE REAL PROBLEM IS COUPLES WHO ASSAULT EACH OTHER. WOMEN ARE JUST AS VIOLENT AS MEN.

FACT: A well-publicized study conducted by Dr. Murray Strauss at the University of New Hampshire found that women use violent means to resolve conflict in relationships as often as men. However, the study also concluded that when the context and consequences of an assault are measured, the majority of victims are women. The U.S. Department of Justice has found that 95% of the victims of spouse abuse are female. Men can be victims, but it is rare.

MYTH #4: ALCOHOL ABUSE CAUSES DOMESTIC VIOLENCE.

FACT: Although there is a high correlation between alcohol or other substance abuse and battering, it is not a causal relationship. Batterers use drinking as one of many excuses for their violence and as a way to place the responsibility for their violence elsewhere. Stopping the abusers' drinking will not stop the violence. Both battering and substance abuse need to be addressed separately, as overlapping yet independent problems.

MYTH #5: DOMESTIC VIOLENCE IS USUALLY A ONE TIME, ISOLATED OCCURRENCE.

FACT: Battering is a pattern of coercion and control that one person exerts over another. Battering is not just one physical attack. It includes the repeated use of a number of tactics, including intimidation, threats, economic deprivation, isolation, and psychological and sexual abuse. Physical violence is just one of these tactics. The various forms of abuse utilized by batterers help them to maintain power and control over their spouses and partners.

MYTH #6: MEN WHO BATTER ARE OFTEN GOOD FATHERS AND SHOULD HAVE JOINT CUSTODY OF THEIR CHILDREN IF THE COUPLE SEPARATES.

FACT: Studies have found that men who batter their wives also abuse their children in 70% of cases. Even when children are not directly abused, they suffer as a result of witnessing one parent assault another. Batterers often display an increased interest in their children at the time of separation, as a means of maintaining contact with, and thus control over, their partners.

MYTH #7: WHEN THERE IS VIOLENCE IN THE FAMILY, ALL MEMBERS OF THE FAMILY ARE PARTICIPATING IN THE DYNAMIC, AND THEREFORE, ALL MUST CHANGE FOR THE VIOLENCE TO STOP.

FACT: Only the batterer has the ability to stop the violence. Battering is a behavioral choice for which the batterer must be held accountable. Many battered women make numerous attempts to change their behavior in the hope that this will stop the abuse. This does not work. Changes in family members' behavior will not cause the batterer to be non-violent.

MYTH #8: BATTERED WOMEN ARE MASOCHISTIC AND PROVOKE THE ABUSE. THEY MUST LIKE IT OR THEY WOULD LEAVE.

FACT: Victim provocation is no more common in domestic violence than in any other crime. Battered women often make repeated attempts to leave violent relationships, but are prevented from doing so by increased violence and control tactics on the part of the abuser. Other factors which inhibit a victim's ability to leave include economic dependence, few viable options for housing and support, unhelpful responses from the criminal justice system or other agencies, social isolation, cultural or religious constraints, a commitment to the abuser and the relationship, and fear of further violence. It has been estimated that the danger to a victim increases by 70% when she attempts to leave, as the abuser escalates his use of violence when he begins to lose control.

MYTH #9: MEN HAVE A RIGHT TO DISCIPLINE THEIR PARTNERS FOR MISBEHAVING. BATTERING IS NOT A CRIME.

FACT: While our society derives from a patriarchal legal system that afforded men the right to physically chastise their wives and children, we do not live under such a system now. Women and children are no longer considered the property of men, and domestic violence is a crime in every state in the country.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What can I do if I am abused?

Call the police. Charges may be filed if the abuser's acts constitute a crime. You may also apply for a Protective Order. You may seek counseling. You can leave the home. The proper course of action depends upon the nature and extent of the abuse. Do not ignore the abuse.

The next few paragraphs is information on how to obtain a protection order in Indiana. We offer this section from the message to familiarize our readers with the process, the procedures in your state maybe slightly different. But we feel our readers need to know what women have to go through once a male become threatening. The protection order procedures you will read are some of the procedures Mrs.

Sandra Berfield, 32, and Mrs. Pamela Nigro Dunn, 22, had to follow to try and prevent their deaths. Mrs. Sandra Berfield lived in Everett, Massachusetts. She was murdered January 2000 after opening a package left on her porch. Mrs. Berfield died at the hands of a stalker. Mrs. Pamela Nigro Dunn, 22, also lived in Massachusetts. She was five months pregnant. Her body was found in a Lexington, Massachusetts dump face down in a puddle, stabbed, shot and strangled at the hands of her husband. We believe the men and women in this country need to understand the dynamics of a protection order and the toll it takes on a person trying to secure protection from an unwanted suitor or an irate husband. By the way when Mrs. Dunn went to court asking for a protection order against her husband the presiding judge humiliated her in court. Mrs. Dunn had no right to be in court complaining about her husband. When Mrs. Dunn's body was found her parents filed a misconduct complaint against the judge. We do not think he resigned. One characteristic about judges that do not support women asking for a protection order in court, is once the woman is murdered the judge has no comment and he (normally a male judge) immediately develops an illness requiring him to resign or to avoid the cameras. We have yet to read of a judge who has publically justified his treatment of a woman that was subsequently murdered. We do know of a Texas judge that justified his behavior but that was a case involving a gay individual being murdered. Normally, the judge slinks away into obscurity.

What is a Protective Order?

A Protective Order is a civil court order that can be issued by a judge if he/she finds probable cause to believe that the applicant has been abused or is threatened with abuse from another person. Violation of a Protective Order may be a criminal offense.

Am I eligible for a Protective Order?

If you are in fear because your partner has threatened you with bodily injury, caused you bodily injury, or attempted to do so, you may be granted a Protective Order. There is no requirement that the other person live in the same household, or be married to you.

What does a Protective Order do?

It is a court order directing that the other person refrain from abusing or threatening you. In the order, the court may also require the other person and/or the applicant to obtain counseling or other social services, including domestic violence education.

Where can I go to get a Protective Order?

The Office of the Clark County Clerk, located on the first floor of the City-County Building at 501 East Court Avenue in Jeffersonville, has form applications for a Protective Order. They may be completed and filed with the Clerk. The allegations in the Application must be sworn to or affirmed. Be truthful, specific, and do not exaggerate. There is no requirement for you to have an attorney and filing fees are often waived in cases of domestic violence. The Domestic Violence Unit of the Clark County Prosecuting Attorney is available to assist you in this process.

How long does it take for the Judge to issue the Protective Order?

Depending on the seriousness of the allegations in the Application, the Protective Order may be issued immediately, without a hearing. When the Protective Order is first issued, it is only temporary. The court will set a hearing date for both parties to appear within 20 days. At the hearing, the court may hear testimony from both sides, then will determine whether the temporary Protective Order should be made permanent. If the abuse is proved by a preponderance of the evidence, the court will issue a permanent Protective Order, ordering the other person to refrain from abusing, harassing, or disturbing the peace of the victim, either directly or indirectly.

What happens if a violation takes place?

Call the police. A knowing or intentional violation of a Protective Order is a criminal offense called Invasion of Privacy (Class B Misdemeanor), punishable by up to 180 days imprisonment and/or a $1,000 fine. If the violation was accomplished by committing other crimes (e.g., Battery, Confinement, and Intimidation), those crimes may also be charged. A police officer need not witness the violation in order to make an arrest as long as there is proof that the Protective Order has been served on the other person, and there is probable cause to believe that the other person committed the violation. Always keep your Protective Order with you and show it to the police who respond to your call. If the other person cannot be located, the police officer will submit a report to the Prosecuting Attorney, who will file charges in court if appropriate. It may be necessary later for you to appear in the Prosecutor's Office to give a statement regarding the incident.

How long does the Protective Order last?

A temporary Protective Order lasts only for 20 days, or until a permanent Protective Order hearing is held, whichever occurs first. A permanent Protective Order expires not more than 1 year after the order is issued. If the Protective Order is issued as a condition of bail, it will remain in effect until final disposition of the criminal charge. If the Protective Order is issued as a condition of Probation, it will remain in effect during the term of probation, usually 1 year.

What if I want to change the order?

Any modifications must be made by the judge. You must return to court and ask the judge to amend the order.

What is a safety plan?

Although no one should have to leave their home as a result of their partner abusing them, safety concerns may cause one to choose to leave. Should this situation present itself, a safety plan can be a big help. It will assist you in your efforts to leave. For instance: Safety during a violent incident (try to move to a low risk place that has access to the outside of the house. Get away from the kitchen, bathroom, or near any weapons). When preparing to leave, check for people who would be willing to assist you with money or a place to stay. Instructions about what to do after getting a Protective Order (such as have copies made); what to do in the event of a violation of the Protective Order; a list what to take when you leave (i.d., money, keys, medication); and emergency numbers (Police, Prosecuting Attorney, and Women's Shelter).

How do I file criminal charges?

In Indiana, only the Prosecuting Attorney "files" criminal charges. A victim who calls the police gives information to the responding officers. Depending on the information given, and whether the perpetrator can be located, the officers may make an immediate arrest. In any event, the results of the officers' investigation is then given to the Prosecuting Attorney, who makes the final decision as to which criminal charges should be filed, if any. Alternatively, a victim may go directly to the Prosecuting Attorney and file a complaint, which may result in criminal charges being filed by the Prosecuting Attorney.

How can I drop charges?
